Executive Summary

Introduction

Trade facilitation (TF) entails the simplification, modernization and harmonization of import and export procedures. TF is critical for enhancing Africa's competitiveness. However, Africa is still lagging in TF. Bureaucratic delays and red tape, corruption and inefficiencies at borders are common in Africa. These issues increase the costs and time of doing business across the continent thereby inhibiting intra and inter-regional trade.

Trade facilitation has been dealt with in the Agreement establishing the AfCFTA. The Protocol on Trade in Goods of the AfCFTA Agreement contains two annexes dedicated to TF: Annex 3 on Customs Co-operation and Mutual Administrative Assistance; and Annex 4 on Trade Facilitation. Annex 3 covers state parties' cooperation in all areas of customs administration. Annex 4 deals with the simplification and harmonization of international trade procedures and logistics to expedite importation, exportation, and transit processes. Annex 4 thus aims to expedite the movement, clearance and release of goods including goods in transit across borders within state parties. The private sector operators (i.e. importers, exporters, service providers) are amongst the most significant beneficiaries from improved TF. The private sector should be able to access effective remedies when affected by non-tariff barriers of a state party. Disputes between the state parties arising out of or relating to the interpretation or application of any provision of the Annexes 3 and 4 will be resolved in accordance with the AfCFTA Protocol on Rules and Procedures on the Settlement of Disputes. Private parties do not have access to the dispute settlement mechanism under the AfCFTA Agreement. Should traders/firms encounter problems because of non-tariff barriers imposed by a state party violating the AfCFTA TF obligations, their home states should act on their behalf? There is a need therefore to build the capacity of Members of Rwanda Freight Forwarders Association (RWAFFA) in customs procedures under the context of AfCFTA implementation.

Background

AfCFTA, was established. The AfCFTA was operationalized on 30th May 2019, 30 days after Sierra Leone and Sahara Republic deposited the last two necessary ratifications with the African Union (AU) for the AfCFTA to legally come into force for the ratifying countries. This landmark agreement offers significant promise for the continent's transformation.

Through the Deutsche Gesellschaft für Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ), Germany currently provides technical support to the African Union Commission (AUC), specifically to the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) and the AfCFTA Secretariat, with its project "African Continental Free Trade Area (AfCFTA)". The project's main objective is that "the framework conditions for intra-African trade have been strengthened". Besides the outstanding topics of AfCFTA Phase I on Trade in Goods and Trade in Services, phase II and III issues, such as Investment, competition policy or digital trade are supported. Furthermore, involvement of the private sector and civil society are supported.

To this end, the project pursues a multi-level approach on the continental level working with the AUC DTI and AfCFTA Secretariat, the regional level supporting Regional Economic Communities (RECs), and also the national level, specifically in the projects focus countries, like Rwanda.

The Republic of Rwanda like many African member states currently do not have enough capacities to successfully realise the AfCFTA. The specific roles to be played by the government, private sector, and civil society are currently not fully supported with requisite knowledge and skills for each to implement the commitments under the AfCFTA. Although responsibilities have been defined in the framework agreement, the specific working methods still need to be established in Rwanda through the National Strategy for Implementation of AfCFTA. This requires building the capacity of all the key stakeholders in specific matters of trade in goods and services among others, trade in services as well as awareness raising and strengthening the necessary institutional and legal frameworks for realizing the AfCFTA at a National level.

Objectives

The main objective of the training is to strengthen the technical capacity of the members of Rwanda Freight Forwarders Association (RWAFFA) to expedite the movement, clearance and release of goods including goods in transit across borders within state parties at the same time be able to participate in providing effective remedies when providing clearing and forwarding services to their clients in Rwanda and rest of the world. This training will equip these members with skills and knowledge to achieve the following specific objectives.

1. To build the competitiveness of the members of freight forwarders to facilitate import and export trade in the region and ultimately explore upcoming opportunities brought by AfCFTA.
2. To raise professional standards of RWAFFA members in Rwanda by acquiring more knowledge required to implement Annexes 3 & 4 of the AfCFTA agreement.
3. To raise awareness of the benefits and developments brought about by the AfCFTA for Rwanda import and export sector.
4. To develop skills to be able to serve a wider market in the context of the AfCFTA of which will be key to equipping Rwanda Freight Forwarders Members to overcome the challenges and seize the opportunities provided by this agreement.

Methodology

Prior the delivery of the training, a kick off meeting took place on May 27th ,2022 in order to discuss how the training will be conducted and the role of institutions involved; below are the main institutions 'roles:

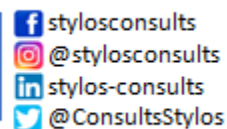

- GIZ: Provide logistics
- Stylos consult Ltd: Preparation of training materials and training delivery
- RWAFFA: Selection of trainees

Furthermore, the kick of meeting discussed and agreed on the work plan which later changed as follow:

Data Collection

This training aimed at changing the behavior of the Beneficiaries (Rwanda Freight Forwarders) at the end of the training. Our approach aspired to bring a positive change at the completion of the training through a learning that engages the learner. To ensure that the expected change happens, learning strategies and techniques strived to promote the learner. In addition, training techniques were carefully selected to take into account such training approaches.

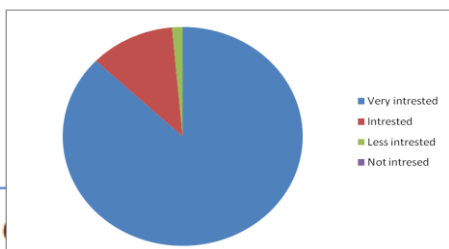

We first gathered information about the Rwanda Freight Forwarders Members and their needs or needs of their interest as follows:

- Gathered information about RWAFFA Members Availability and Working Hours: this was done through an interview with RWAFFA Executive Director and the Focal Person from RWAFFA.
- Conducted Needs Assessment to the beneficiaries/RWAFFA Members to engage them in the project for successful implementation process: We sent an online questionnaire to the beneficiaries/all RWAFFA Members for them to select the training topics that interest them or they need the most.

The outcome of the survey/questionnaire is as follow:

- Structure of the Harmonized System (SH)
- Duties, taxes and fees paid on imported goods;
- History of automation of customs operations in Rwanda;
- National and joint committees for border management.

Trade facilitation

The next training was dedicated on trade facilitation as the annex 4 of the AfCFTA trade in good protocol. The annex is composed by 31 articles. However, trainers emphasized on the following key points from the survey:

- Advance Rulings;
- Risk Management;
- Trade Facilitation measures;
- Use of international standards;
- Separation of release from final determination of customs duties, taxes, fees and charges;
- Single window.

The presentation on trade facilitation was proceeded by group discussions where 3 groups discussed the points below:

- Highlight the trade facilitation (TF) aspects;
- How TF is it implemented in Rwanda customs?
- Cost on implementation of TF.

The aim of the group discussions was to know the level of understanding of the trade facilitation by the trainees. Each group presented the outcome of the discussion and trainers observed that trainees had some knowledge on TF.

- Mutual recognition of regulatory organs at continental level
- How the exporting country/exporter is it protected in the importing country?

Training Evaluation

To assess the overall training, the 4 levels of the Kilpatrick Model were utilized:

Level 1: Reaction measures how participants react to the workshop on the customs rules

Level 2: Learning analyses if they truly understood the reasons for the custom rules.

Level 3: Behavior looks as if they are ready to utilize the custom rules for the benefits of taking advantage of the opportunities offered by the AfCFTA,

Level 4: Results determine if the training on the custom had a positive impact on the way they understand them and how they translate them into practice.

All these were tracked or measured using an evaluation form which was distributed to each participant at the end of the training.

43 trainees comprising 32 male and 11 female participated in the evaluation of the training.

Recommendations

Trainees appreciated the training and thanked GIZ for organizing the AfCFTA training on customs procedures and mutual assistance, Trade Facilitation. Below are their recommendations:

- More training on customs procedures, Tariff classification, rules of origin, laws, and single window;
- Training in other remaining annexes of the AfCFTA;
- Training of TF at EAC level;
- Same training for customs officers and other stakeholders;
- Need of refresher courses to be more professional;
- Continue helping RWAFFA members in order to reduce risk.
